

PhD scholarships (psychology/economics) with connection to the Center for Empirical Research in Economics and Behavioral Science (Erfurt)

The Center for Empirical Research in Economics and Behavioral Science (CEREB, <http://www.uni-erfurt.de/cereb/>) at the University of Erfurt looks for excellent PhD candidates, supported by a scholarship awarded by the University of Erfurt. The CEREB is an interdisciplinary research group with special interest in different aspects of human decision making. We offer PhD candidates excellent conditions regarding academic training and research facilities.

We therefore invite graduates to apply for PhD scholarships at the University of Erfurt.

As a member of our group you will have the opportunity to connect to researchers in the following fields:

behavioural economics, social and health psychology, organizational psychology, organization & management, corporate & business ethics, corporate governance, individual and group decision making, child decision making, medical decision making & risk communication

Further, you will have access to a structured graduate program (<http://www.uni-erfurt.de/en/cereb/graduate-program/>) and recent research projects (<http://www.uni-erfurt.de/en/cereb/research/>).

Deadline for applications: July 15th, 2014

Funding Start Date: October 01st, 2014

Scholarship Period: awarded for two years for a maximum of 3 years

If you have any questions you can contact CEREB's director Prof. Dr. Manfred Königstein, manfred.koenigstein@uni-erfurt.de.

Further information about the application procedure: <http://www.uni-erfurt.de/index.php?id=31991&L=1>

We look forward to your application!